Baha'i in Nepal

Three principles are said to form basic Bahai doctrine: the unity of God, the unity of religion (that all major religions have the same spiritual source and come from the same God), the unity of humanity (that all humans have been created equal). People are to learn to know and love God through such methods as prayer, reflection, and being of service to humanity. Jesus is but one of many "divine messengers" that have appeared in history. The religion was initially seen as a sect of Islam, with its religious background in Shia Islam. Muslims generally regard followers of Bahai as deserters of Islam, apostates. The Bahai religion arrived in Nepal after World War II.

POPULATION: 1,300
LANGUAGE: Nepali
RELIGION: Other/Small
BIBLE: Complete
STATUS: Unreached

Ministry Obstacles
The Bahai believe that there is only one God. They also believe that all major religions have the same source and same God. They view Jesus as just one of many divine messengers. Such views contradict the Bible.

Outreach Ideas
There are strong believers in Nepal who can reach the Bahai.

Prayer Focus
Pray for the hearts of the Bahai to be open to God's truth. Pray for them to understand that Jesus stands far above all others.

SCRIPTURE Against you, you only, have I sinned and done what is evil in your sight, so that you may be justified in your words and blameless in your judgment. Psalm 51:4

PRAY that leaders among this people group will understand the depth of their sin just as King David did.
