

Adamawa Fulani in Cape Verde

In general, the Fulani peoples are in an almost horizontal strip across West Africa. The Sahara Desert forms their northernmost boundary, while the threat of tsetse flies controls their movement to the south. The Fulani tribes are grouped and named according to their locations, occupations, and dialects. The Adamawa Fulani are the group of Fulani who live in Nigeria's Adamawa Province. There are a small number in Cape Verde, off the coast of West Africa.

Ministry Obstacles

Fulani identity is deeply tied in with Islam. They are not likely to consider any other spiritual beliefs.

Outreach Ideas

The JESUS Film and a complete Bible is in their language. These can be downloaded from computers.

Prayer Focus

Pray for spiritual openness to the lordship of Jesus Christ. Pray that efforts by mission agencies in countries where the Fulani live will affect the Fulanis in Cape Verde. Pray for a Disciple Making Movement
