

Hausa in the Republic of the Congo

Today members of the Hausa community are highly trained, educated and assimilated into the political and social life of many African countries including the Democratic Republic of the Congo (DRC). Some of the Hausas have become very rich. They are deeply involved in the politics of their communities.

Ministry Obstacles

Islam and high status as a community are huge obstacles for those who might otherwise come humbly to the Lord of lords.

Outreach Ideas

Christian businessmen from other parts of Africa can befriend Hausas from the DRC and share the ways of Jesus (whom Muslims call Isa al-Masih) with these people.

Pray for the Church

There has been intense persecution of Christian Hausas. Pray that they would stay firmly grounded in their faith and stand as a light in the darkness.
