

Jola-Mlomp in Senegal

If you live in the US, you likely know some descendants of the Jola-Mlomp people, many of whom were taken as slaves during the Trans-Atlantic Slave Trade. Their most common crops in Senegal include sweet potatoes, watermelon, rice, and even livestock such as cattle.

Ministry Obstacles

Many of the Jola-Mlomp use charms and sacred objects in a vain attempt to find protection. This can be an obstacle to sharing the gospel with them.

Outreach Ideas

African believers can fan out into Jola-Mlomp communities to do culturally appropriate skits and sing songs to share the teachings of Christ. They can leave people with gospel recordings and the JESUS Film.

Prayer Focus

There is a small percentage of believers among the Jola-Mlomp. Pray for courage, love, and a desire to share the gospel. Pray for Jola communities to be transformed by the holiness of Christ in a way that will amaze nonbelievers. Pray that fear of the spirits will give way to faith in Christ when the Jola peoples hear of the finished work of our Lord. Pray that the Lord will raise up many African believers to go to the Jola peoples with the exciting news that Jesus Christ offers abundant life for the here and now and eternal life. Pray for discipleship to become a way of life for them.

SCRIPTURE So that those who dwell at the ends of the earth are in awe at your signs. You make the going out of the morning and the evening to shout for joy. Psalm 65:8

PRAY May many from this people group stand in awe of the Lord's deeds and joyfully follow Him.
