

Sindhi in Belize

The Sindhi, named for the Sindhu River, are said to be one of the oldest people groups in South Asia. The Sindhis are native to the Sindh Province which is now in Pakistan. Their culture has been heavily influenced by Muslim beliefs and their customs reflect that. Though most Sindhi still live in India and Pakistan, others are scattered all over the world in places like Belize, Central America.

Ministry Obstacles

There are no known believers among the Sindhi and changing that has been difficult. However there are many resources available in their language, including the complete Bible, audio Bible recordings, the JESUS Film, and other audio-visual Bible-centered materials.

Outreach Ideas

Talking to the Sindhi people and leading them to get to know people who believe firsthand, as well as encouraging usage of the resources, could be helpful in leading them to Jesus.
