

Persian in Iran

Persia – the name evokes ancient memories mostly from the Bible. The children of Israel were taken captive and exiled in Persia or modern-day Iran. Tehran, the capital, is home to many ethnic groups, and the Persians are one such group. The Persians are very family oriented. Modern Persian women highly value their appearance, and many wear designer fashions.

Ministry Obstacles

The government of Iran is strongly opposed to anything they perceive as Western, including the gospel.

Outreach Ideas

The government of Iran tries its best to stop the spread of the gospel, but Iran remains the fastest growing church in the world, thanks to their government-dictated form of spirituality. It is reported that many are coming to Jesus Christ through supernatural encounters. Now seems to be God's time for drawing the Persians to himself.

Prayer Focus

Pray for believers to be so filled with the love and joy of having a relationship with Christ that others would take whatever chance they need to belong to him. Pray for God to draw
