

Russian Jew in Russia

The Jews of Europe arrived on the continent at least 2,000 years ago, during the early days of the Roman empire. Since then, they have been a significant influence in the history and culture of Europe. Much of what is considered “Jewish” today finds its roots among the European Jews. During the last few centuries, Eastern Europe had the largest Jewish population in the world. Since the dissolution of the USSR, Russian Jews no longer have to deal with government-sponsored oppression. Anti-Semitism is still a concern, but Jewish life has been revitalized.

Ministry Obstacles

European Jews are strong supporters of “Zionism,” a revival of Jewish culture and support of Israel as a secure Jewish homeland. Those who practice their faith have rejected Jesus and continue to look for another messiah to come.

Outreach Ideas

Christian believers in Russia need to be willing to show the Jewish people they care about them, demonstrating God’s love and power in Christ.
