

Kahar in India

It seems likely that the Kahar caste is a remnant of one of the ethnic groups who occupied the valley of the Ganges before Aryan invaders came from the north. They claim to be descended from one of Brahma's sons and from a warrior caste, which would give them a good social standing if other Hindu communities accepted this.

Ministry Obstacles

The worldview of the Kahar is very different than the biblical worldview. For example, they have no concept of resurrection, a key belief for Christ followers. They also live mainly in Uttar Pradesh, one of India's least reached states.

Outreach Ideas

Tools (JESUS Film, recordings, videos, etc.) are available in most of the languages spoken by the Kahar community, but there is a need for workers to distribute them.

Prayer Focus

We know of no believers among the Kahar, so pray this will soon change, leading to a movement to Christ. Pray the Kahar will understand that
