

Raddi in India

The Raddi people are very family oriented; they prefer marriages between cousins. When the father dies, the oldest son takes charge of the family. They also speak Kannada like the Devanga people, whom we prayed for yesterday. The Raddi are mostly farmers, and they are vegetarians, which possibly indicates high status.

Ministry Obstacles

Hinduism is their religion, and they worship many gods and goddesses, none of which can benefit them. Turning to Christ would involve a supernatural encounter with the living Savior. Their community leaders need a "Saul of Tarsus roadside conversion."

Outreach Ideas

They would best be led to Christ in a people movement involving entire families and communities. There are Bible and Bible resources available to them in their language. They need evangelists to lead them to Jesus Christ.

Pray for the Entire Group
