

Ramdasia (Sikh tradition) in India

The Ramdasias are believed to be descendants and followers of Ramdas. They are a Sikh sub-group of the Julaha community of weavers. Their trade suffered during the industrial revolution and today, many are farmers.

Ministry Obstacles

As Sikhs, the Ramdasias believe in reincarnation. They believe that their good deeds will be rewarded, their bad deeds punished, and they will be born again and again until they attain salvation. According to Sikhism, God cannot take on human form.

Outreach Ideas

Sikhism has several beliefs in common with Christianity. Sikhs believe in one God, the creator of the world, who does not die. They also have a form of baptism. Bridges of common understanding could lead to faith in Christ.

Prayer Focus

There has been no indication that there are followers of Jesus Christ among the Ramdasia people. Pray for any secret believers and for others to soon come to Christ. Pray

🔊 rahm-DAH-see-uh

POPULATION: 554,000

LANGUAGE: Punjabi, Eastern

RELIGION: Other / Small

BIBLE: Complete

STATUS: Unreached

for Sikhs to believe that God truly was born as a human on earth, in the person of his Son, Jesus Christ. Pray for them realize that salvation is God's gift, not something to be earned.

SCRIPTURE And the twenty-four elders who sit on their thrones before God fell on their faces and worshiped God, saying, We give thanks to you, Lord God Almighty, who is and who was, for you have taken your great power and begun to reign. (Revelation 11:16-17)

PRAY for today's people group to worship the true God for his great power and sovereignty over the universe.

Unreachedoftheday.org