

Rtahu Amdo in China

You know that the Dalai Lama is Tibetan, but now you know he is from one of the Amdo groups! Padmasambhava, an eighth-century Tibetan sage, prophesied that "When the iron bird flies and horses run on wheels, the Tibetan people will be scattered like ants across the world and the Dharma will come to the land of the Red Man." In 1959, the Dalai Lama had to flee from Tibet to India, where he lives in exile and continues to work for the liberation of his people from the control of China. The Rtahu Amdo people speak one of the four Amdo languages.

Ministry Obstacles

The Rtahu Amdo people are dedicated Tibetan Buddhists. They worship unclean spirit beings. No Christian believers live among the Rtahu Amdo, and if anyone in the tribe puts all their trust in Christ, community response will undoubtedly be serious.

Outreach Ideas

The Rtahu Amdo live under a government that was imposed on them, but believers can take them gospel materials if they are careful.
