

Hmong Njua in Australia

Many Hmong Njua people were forced to migrate to Australia due to wars and communist oppression. This forced them to make major adjustments. They were once rice farmers and had to learn to work in Australia.

Obstacles

The primary religion practiced by the Njua Hmong is an ethnic religion. Ethnic religion is deeply rooted in a people's ethnic identity. Conversion essentially equates to cultural assimilation or even betrayal. They are also dependent on shamans, who unwittingly add an additional demonic layer to their spiritual lives.

Outreach Ideas

Though the Njua Hmong who arrived 40 years ago have adapted to their new lives, those who have arrived more recently desperately need job skills. Believers can provide Christian resources while sharing Christ.

Prayer Focus

Pray that the Hmong Njua people would increasingly hunger to know forgiveness for their sin, which only Jesus Christ can offer. Pray that the stronghold of shamanism and traditional religion would be broken in the name of Jesus Christ. Pray for other Hmong groups in Australia to disciple those who are spiritually hungry in the ways of Jesus. Pray for a disciple making movement among the Njua Hmong people to thrive in Australia.

SCRIPTURE The times of ignorance God overlooked, but now he commands all people everywhere to repent, because he has fixed a day on which he will judge the world in righteousness by a man whom he has appointed; and of this he has given assurance to all by raising him from the dead. Acts 17:30-31

PRAY for today's people group to repent of their sins and to believe in the God of the Bible.
