

Doma in Zimbabwe

The Doma are hunter gatherers who live in Zimbabwe's mountains and lowlands. They are the only non-agricultural people of Zimbabwe. The Doma speak Shona and Dema. They are largely pre-literate and have little or no access to schools and hospitals.

Ministry Obstacles

The Doma have little contact with other Zimbabweans and this has made it difficult for the missionaries to reach them. They follow their ethnic religion which has enslaved them to the spirit world. A few of them also practice Islam and are not open to the gospel.

Outreach ideas

There is a great need for healthcare and educational opportunities for the tribe, which might help introduce them to the life-giving Savior. The Government's efforts to integrate them with the mainline Zimbabweans also might expose them to the Christian world granting them access to Bibles and churches.

the Savior to the isolated tribe. Pray for dedicated workers who are familiar with their culture and language to reach these people. Pray that their hearts will be touched by desperately needed medical and educational mission efforts.

SCRIPTURE And I heard every creature in heaven and on earth and under the earth and in the sea, and all that is in them, saying, To him who sits on the throne and to the Lamb be blessing and honor and glory and might forever and ever! (Revelation 5:13)

PRAY May God's praises ring out forever among this people group!
