About Joshua Project

Joshua Project is a research ministry that tracks unreached and Frontier People Groups worldwide. Our goal is to help the global church identify and reach peoples with the least access to the gospel.

About this role

We are looking for a well-connected leader in the Arab world (Middle East and North Africa) to help build relationships with churches, mission organizations, and ministry networks.

Joshua Project produces research, data tools, and content to help the church reach unreached people groups. But that work only matters if the right leaders know about it and can use it.

You will connect Joshua Project with Modern Arabic-speaking churches and missions networks, and help those communities discover and use JP resources.

What you will do

- Build and maintain relationships with churches, mission organizations, and networks in the Arab world (Middle East and North Africa)
- Connect Joshua Project with leaders who are mobilizing their communities to reach unreached people
- Introduce JP resources in church and ministry settings when opportunities arise
- Share insights from your network to help us communicate better in your context
- Collaborate with our global communications team

Who we are looking for

- Well-established in church, missions, or ministry networks in the Arab world (Middle East and North Africa)
- Passionate about Frontier People Groups and reaching the unreached
- Able to communicate in both English and Modern Arabic
- Available for part-time (minimum 15 hours/week) or full-time commitment
